Ronni Gallup

Dear Ronni,

The purpose of this letter is to “thank you” for being the kind of realtor who homebuilders truly love to work with!

From the beginning, I was impressed with the level of care that you give your clients. Your “above and beyond” approach is truly rare in this business & says a lot to me about why you have become such a success in this market! We are blessed to work with an educated clientele that have high expectations in business relations. You have proven that you have the determination to meet and often exceed your clients’ demands. I heard over and over again from the last buyers that we worked with how much they trusted you & how thankful they were for your representation. I was impressed as well! Impressed enough that I referred my dad to you when he was looking for a home in Parker (sorry he was so high maintenance).

I would say to all potential homebuyers or sellers, the decision to work with you would be rewarding one for everyone involved! She is such a delight to work with and has such a great work ethic and passion for helping people

Sincerely,

Ashley Smith
